

Snow in Paulerspury Feb 09 #uksnow

Thursday, 05 February 2009

Biggest snowfall for 20 years? Quite possibly. Lots of the villagers stood around chatting today about whether or not this was the biggest snowfall since 1984. Perhaps you remember yourself playing on the Warren sledging and building snowmen? If so, perhaps these photos will bring back great memories. If you have any photos that you'd like on this page, please do contact us via the contact form - click contact us. Just send a quick note and I will reply to you with an email address that you can send the images to. Keep safe driving through the village whilst it is icy.
